20 Defendants.

21 JURISDICTIONAL ALLEGATIONS

22 1.

23 This claim arises under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, the Fourth and Fourteenth Amendment of the 24 United States Constitution. This Court has jurisdiction of Plaintiff's federal law claims pursuant 25 to 28 U.S.C. § 1331, 42 U.S.C. § 1988, 28 U.S.C. § 2201. This Court has Supplemental

2 jurisdiction over State law claims pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1367. A tort claims notice against the
3 State of Oregon was timely submitted.

4 2.

5 Costs and attorney fees may be awarded pursuant to the Civil Rights Act as amended, 42
6 U.S.C. § 1988.

7 ALLEGATIONS OF STATUS

8 3.

10 At all relevant times herein, Plaintiff Tracy Gillis was a citizen of the United 11 States residing in the City of Eugene located in Lane County, Oregon. At all material times
12 herein Plaintiff Gillis is the custodial parent of the minor children A.M.K., and A.M.K.

13 4.

14 At all relevant times herein Defendant State of Oregon is charged with and responsible 15 for appointing, promoting and supervising, through the Oregon Department of Human Services,
16 the employees of the Children's Services Division of the Department of Human Services and its 17 personnel. At all relevant times herein, the State of Oregon had the power, right and duty to 18 train, control and supervise the manner in which employees carried out the objectives of their 19 employment, and to see that all orders, rules, training, instructions and regulations promulgated 20 by the Children's Services Division, and the actions of its employees, consistent with State and 21 Federal Constitutions and Federal and State Statutes and laws.

22 5.

24 At all relevant times herein, Defendants were employees of the Oregon Department of 25 Human Services. Defendants Chapman, Hickman, Meyer, Canzales and Beechinor are caseworkers directly involved in the case and were supervised by the Oregon Department of

1 Human Services. The acts of Defendants Chapman, Hickman, Meyer and Beechinor and
2 Canzales, which are the subject of this lawsuit, were undertaken unlawfully under color of state
3 law in the regular course of their employment for Defendant State of Oregon. They are sued in 4 their individual capacity under federal claims. Upon information and belief, Defendants are 5 residents of Lane County, Oregon.

6 6.

8 At all relevant times herein, Defendants Chapman, Hickman, Meyer, Canzales and 9 Beechinor were acting in their official and individual capacities under color of state law.

10
11 FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

12 7.

13 At all material times herein, Plaintiff is the mother and custodial parent of the minor
14 children A.M.K. and A.M.K. and was awarded the majority of parenting time pursuant to a 15 Stipulated General Judgment entered in the Lane County Circuit Court on March 26, 2014.

16 8.

17 In the fall of 2014, Plaintiff became concerned over a number of statements as well as 18 drawings by her children that suggested evidence of sexual abuse, possibly by their father.
19 Without making any accusations, Plaintiff immediately sought the assistance of DHS and 20 enrolled her children in counseling with private family therapist Rachel Cudmore to help
21 determine if the statements made by her children were reasons to be concerned and/or required
22 further investigation.

23
24 9.

25 Initially, DHS caseworker Chandra Chapman undertook a cursory interview of the children in the fall of 2014 and despite some concerning disclosures, including disclosures made

1 in a forensic interview, nevertheless concluded, without any substantiating evidence, that there
2 was no reason for concern and that Plaintiff may have been coaching the children and was
3 seeking to cause parental alienation against their father in order to obtain advantage in a future
4 custody dispute and despite that Plaintiff already had custody and the majority of parenting time.

7 Beginning in August 2014, Defendant Chapman in her individual capacity and as an 8 official of the State of Oregon, contacted Plaintiff's children's counselor, Rachel Cudmore, and 9 requested that Ms. Cudmore provide information to corroborate Chapman's theory that Plaintiff
10 was engaged in behavior that would cause parental alienation against the children's father. From 11 August 2014, without Plaintiff's knowledge or consent, Defendants Chapman and the Oregon
12 Department of Human Services colluded with Ms. Cudmore to obtain and fabricate information 13 about Plaintiff in order to build a dependency case against Plaintiff. Between May 2015 and 14 January 2016, the child support division of the Oregon Department of Human Services regularly
15 exchanged protected information about Plaintiff and Plaintiff's children with Cudmore without 16 parental consent or a release of information.

17
18 11.

19 On April 30, 2015, Defendant Meyer removed the child A.M.K. from her classroom and 20 interviewed the child at her elementary school. At no time did Defendant Meyer obtain a 21 warrant, contact the minor child's custodial parent to obtain parental consent, provide a 22 counselor or attorney to the child or provide the child with an advocate who could explain the 23 right against self-incrimination, or to request that an advocate or parent be present.

24
25 12.

The Lane County Child Protective Services Division of the Oregon Department of Human Services has a custom and policy of seizing children from classrooms and subjecting

1 them to custodial interrogations without a warrant, parental consent, or exigent circumstances,
2 and a custom and practice of not informing the parents either during or after the interview.

3 13.

4 On May 4, 2015, Plaintiff's ex-husband Darin Kundert was instructed by Defendants
5 Meyer and Hickman to file and did file an ex parte a petition for emergency temporary custody
6 in the Lane County Circuit Court, alleging that the children were in imminent danger due to 7 Plaintiff's purported "coaching" of the children to disclose physical abuse, and requested that the 8 children not be allowed to return home with Plaintiff. That motion was denied, Mr. Kundert was 9 instructed by the Circuit Court to return the children to Plaintiff and a hearing was set in five
10 days. Kundert filed a concurrent motion to modify custody and parenting time. Immediately
11 after being ordered by the Circuit Court to return the children to the Plaintiff, DHS intervened in 12 the absence of exigent circumstances or a warrant or court order, and instructed Mr. Kundert not 13 to return the children to Plaintiff.
14

15 14.

16 DHS, through caseworkers Meyer and Hickman, promptly filed a petition for dependency
17 jurisdiction alleging that Mother has endangered the welfare of the children and that "Father 18 lacks a custody order that allows him to act proactively." At the recommendation of DHS, the 19 juvenile court ordered that temporary custody of the children be placed with DHS while the 20 jurisdictional hearing was pending in the normal course. DHS then determined that Plaintiff 21 should be allowed only one hour of supervised visitation per week based on the fact that the 22 children would be in imminent danger of abuse if Plaintiff had unsupervised visitation. Plaintiff
23 was effectively denied an immediate post-deprivation probable cause hearing.
24

On May 6, 2015, an original hearing was held in the Lane County Juvenile Court in which Plaintiff denied the allegations of the petition for dependency jurisdiction. The matter was then set for a fact-finding (jurisdictional hearing). DHS maintained that the jurisdictional hearing should be heard after the custody matter was determined since the custody case could be dispositive and DHS would vacate jurisdiction provided Mr. Kundert obtained custody. DHS successfully obtained an order requiring that the custody case in family court be heard first. After at least one postponement, the custody trial was scheduled for January 26, 2016, effectively forestalling the dependency jurisdictional hearing until no earlier than February 2016, at least 9 months after Plaintiff was denied unrestricted access to her children. Defendant Meyer and Beechinor stated to Plaintiff at a mandatory family safety meeting that once Mr. Kundert obtains custody, DHS would move to vacate jurisdiction, and DHS has maintained throughout that the dependency jurisdiction would be vacated upon conclusion of the custody case.

16.

At all relevant times herein, Defendants have colluded with Darin Kundert, the children's father, to assist him in obtaining a modification of custody and parenting time that would indefinitely limit Plaintiff to supervised visitation regardless of child welfare safety concerns.

17.

At all relevant times herein, the Oregon Department of Human Services and its employees of the child services division owed a continuing duty to investigate the truth of allegations against a parent in a dependency case in which the agency seeks to obtain jurisdiction over the family and further, to investigate reasonable claims of abuse against a child.

1 18.

2 At all relevant times herein, Defendants e failed to undertake an adequate, independent
3 investigation raised by the children's disclosures to third parties that meets the standard of care
4 required by child protective services in investigating a disclosure of potential child abuse.

5 19.

6 At all relevant times herein, Defendants failed to undertake an adequate, independent
7 investigation that meets the standard of care required by child protective services as to whether 8 Plaintiff had an objectively reasonable basis to place the children in counseling in order to 9 determine whether there was a basis for concern for the children's disclosures and other evidence
10 that Plaintiff and Plaintiff's children found concerning, and whether the children's welfare was 11 endangered by Plaintiff's actions. Defendants were further negligent in either failing or actively 12 refusing to investigate evidence that conflicted with the allegations set forth in the dependency
13 petition, including but not limited to drawings made by the children, police reports, disclosures
14 made in Kid's First Interviews, and interviews with other essential witnesses.

15 20.

16 During the pendency of the dependency case and at all material times herein, Defendants
17 have withheld exculpatory evidence and have materially altered documents to misrepresent what 18 was stated by Plaintiff and her children in supervised visits and interviews with the Plaintiff and 19 other witnesses, including but not limited to treatment records made by the children's counselor,
20 in order to cast Plaintiff in a negative light; support the dependency allegations against Plaintiff;
21 support the allegations of the opposing party in a private custody modification case; alienate
22 Plaintiff's children and misrepresent the circumstances and conditions that have led DHS to 23 deprive Plaintiff of her right to parent her children.
25

1 21.

2 At all relevant herein, Defendants exchanged confidential and protected patient
3 information regarding the children and Plaintiff with the children's counselor without the 4 permission or knowledge of Plaintiff.

5 22.

6 Defendants' actions, including the unlawful removal of Plaintiff's children in May 2015,
7 has caused irreparable harm to both Plaintiff and her children and Plaintiff has suffered
8 emotional and mental distress as a direct and foreseeable result and has deprived Plaintiff of a
9 fundamental liberty interest in her substantive and procedural due process rights under the 14th
10 Amendment of the Federal Constitution. Defendants have further deprived Plaintiff of her right
11 to be free from unreasonable seizures under the 4th Amendment of the Federal Constitution.
12

14 Defendants have unlawfully colluded with the children's father, Darin Kundert, to 15 interfere in Plaintiff's court ordered custody and parenting time by placing Plaintiff's children
16 with Mr. Kundert in violation of the custody order, limiting Plaintiff's parenting time to one hour
17 a week, and directing Mr. Kundert to file a an action for modification of custody and parenting, a
18 civil proceeding in the state circuit court. Defendant has explicitly stated that once the custody
19 order is modified, Defendant will dismiss its petition in the juvenile court but that until such
20 time, Defendant will retain jurisdiction irrespective of whether there is a significant child welfare
21 concern. By colluding to initiate a civil proceeding over which Defendant has no jurisdiction and 22 under color of state law, and by removing Plaintiff's children from her care for the explicit
23 purpose of assisting an opposing party to obtain a custody order, Defendants have deprived
24 Plaintiff of a fundamental liberty interest in her substantive and procedural due process rights
25 under the 14th Amendment of the Federal Constitution.

1 24.

2 It is a regular practice of Defendant Oregon Department of Human Services in Lane
3 County to remove and place children in protective custody and alleging parental unfitness based
4 on a custody order that the Oregon Department of Human Services in Lane County finds to be 5 inadequate or deficient and despite an absence of imminent danger of serious injury to the 6 welfare of a child.

7 25.

8 It is a regular practice of Defendant Oregon Department of Human Services in Lane
9 County to remove and place children without a warrant or a petition filed with the court alleging
10 imminent danger as grounds for removal, or in the absence of exigent circumstances of imminent
11 danger of serious bodily injury, in violation of a parents' familial and due process rights under 12 the Fourteenth Amendment of the Federal Constitution, which must afford a parent with an 13 evidentiary hearing in a reasonable time.

14 26.

15 On June 14, 2016, the Lane County Circuit Court finally determined at a jurisdictional
16 hearing that the Oregon Department of Human Services did not have, nor ever had a basis for 17 dependency jurisdiction of Plaintiff's children; that Plaintiff had never acted improperly and that 18 Plaintiff acted reasonably by attempting to seek counseling given the statements of the children's 19 disclosures. The Circuit Court promptly vacated wardship.
20

23 FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

24 (Interference with Familial Association, 14th Amendment Substantive Due Process)

25 27.

Plaintiff re-alleges and reincorporates paragraphs 1 through 26 above.

1 28.

2 Defendant Oregon Department of Human Service's Supervisors and Officers failed to
3 sufficiently train or supervise Defendants Chapman, Hickman, Meyer, Canazales and Beechinor
4 so that caseworkers of the Oregon Department of Human Services acting under color of State
5 law would comply with the Constitutional rights of Plaintiff. The action of Defendants Chapman,
6 Hickman, Meyer, Canazales and Beechinor showed a callous or reckless disregard for the rights
7 of Plaintiff.

10 Defendants' wrongful actions described herein violated Plaintiffs' right to be free from 11 unlawful interference with familial association guaranteed by the Fourteenth Amendment to the 12 United States Constitution, and the right to be free from unlawful seizures under the 4th
13 Amendment of the United States Constitution. Plaintiff is informed and believes and thereon
14 alleges that the right of familial association guaranteed under the Fourteenth Amendment and the 15 right to be free from unreasonable and unlawful seizure under the Fourth Amendment are 16 "clearly established" such that a reasonable social worker and or officer acting under color of 17 state law would know it is unlawful to remove a child from the care, custody and control of its 18 parents in the absence of exigent circumstances that would constitute imminent danger of serious
19 bodily injury, and without first obtaining a warrant.
20

22 Defendants Chapman, Hickman, Meyer, Canazales and Beechinor were acting under
23 color of state law when they acted, agreed, and/or conspired to unlawfully remove Plaintiff's
24 children without proper justification or authority, and without probable cause, exigency or court
25 order. Further Defendants' actions were taken with deliberate indifference to Plaintiff's rights.

1 31.

2 Defendants maliciously conspired to violate the civil rights of Plaintiff, including
3 violation of Plaintiff's right found in the Fourth and Fourteenth Amendments of the United
4 States Constitution, by, but not limited to, removing and continuing to detain Plaintiff's children
5 from the care, custody and control of their mother, Plaintiff Gillis, without proper or just cause,
6 authority or consent.

7 32.

8 By these actions, Defendants interfered and/or attempted to interfere with Plaintiff's
9 constitutional rights to familial association under the Fourteenth Amendment, the right to be free
10 from unlawful and unreasonable seizure guaranteed by the 4th Amendment, as well as the those 11 rights under State law rising to the level of a federally constitutionally protected right.

12 33.

13 Plaintiff is entitled to all remedies provided by 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

14 34.

15 As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' wrongful actions, Plaintiff and Plaintiff's
16 children suffered emotional and mental injury including but not limited to post traumatic stress,
17 anxiety, fear for the safety of her children, and depression. Plaintiff has been damaged due to the 18 interruption of an interference with the relationship with her daughters caused by Defendants and
19 that damage is valued at three hundred thousand ($300,000.00) dollars. Plaintiff has suffered
20 emotional distress in the amount of three million ($3,000,000.00) dollars.

21 35.

22 As a further result of Defendants' wrongful actions, Plaintiff is entitled to recover
23 reasonable costs and attorney fees incurred herein.

24 ///

2 The actions of the Oregon Department of Human Services and caseworkers Defendants
3 Chapman, Hickman, Meyer, Canazales and Beechinor, acting in their individual capacity were 4 either malicious or reckless in disregard of the rights of Plaintiff and punitive damages, in an
5 amount to be determined by a jury or judge, should be awarded against Defendants to punish 6 Defendants for wrongdoing and to prevent Defendants and others from acting in a similar 7 manner in the future.

8 SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

9 (Section 1983; Procedural Due Process)

10 37.

11 Plaintiff re-alleges and reincorporates paragraphs 1 through 26 above.

12 38.

13 Plaintiff has been unlawfully deprived of her rights of procedural due process or has been 14 subject to inadequate, defective or unlawful legal process that is grossly inconsistent with 15 Plaintiff's rights of procedural due process under the 14th Amendment of the Federal 16 Constitution that, as a direct and foreseeable result, has caused Plaintiff harm.

17 39.

18 The action of Defendants showed a callous or reckless disregard for the rights of Plaintiff.

19 40.

20 Plaintiff is entitled to all remedies provided by 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

21 41.

22 As a further result of Defendants' wrongful actions, Plaintiff is entitled to recover
23 reasonable costs and attorney fees incurred herein.

24 ///

2 As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' wrongful actions, Plaintiff suffered
3 emotional and mental injury including but not limited to post traumatic stress, anxiety, fear for 4 the safety of her children, and depression. Plaintiff has been damaged due to the interruption of 5 an interference with the relationship with her daughters caused by Defendants and that damage is 6 valued at three hundred thousand ($300,000.00) dollars. Plaintiff has suffered mental anguish,
7 anxiety, and permanent, detrimental interference with the parent-child relationship for damages
8 in the amount of three million ($3,000,000.00) dollars.

10 43.

11 The actions of the Oregon Department of Human Services and caseworkers Chapman, 12 Hickman, Meyer, and Beechinor acting in their individual capacity were malicious or reckless in 13 disregard of the rights of Plaintiff and punitive damages in an amount to be determined should be
14 awarded against Defendants to punish Defendants form wrongdoing and to prevent Defendants
15 and others from acting in a similar manner in the future.
16

17 THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF

18 (Negligent Failure to Investigate, Supplemental Jurisdiction, 28 U.S.C. § 1367)
19

20 44.

21 Plaintiff re-alleges and reincorporates paragraphs 1 through 26 above.

22 45.

23 Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367 and under Article III of the United States Constitution, this 24 Court may exercise supplemental jurisdiction over state claims so related to the claims in the 25 action that form part of the case or controversy within which this court has original jurisdiction
Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367 and under Article III of the United States Constitution.

1 46.

2 On October 1, 2015, Plaintiff filed a Tort Claim Notice with the State of Oregon pursuant
3 to ORS 30.275, giving notice that damages would be asserted against Defendant Oregon
4 Department of Human Services for negligence, misrepresentation and/or defamation.

5 47.

6 At all relevant times herein, the State of Oregon and Defendants owed a continuing duty
7 to investigate the circumstances of the removal of Plaintiff's children and whether the decision to 8 remove the children was consistent with the Federal Constitution and Federal laws, State laws
9 and the administrative rules of the Oregon Department of Human Services.

10 48.

11 At all relevant times herein, the Oregon Department of Human Services had the power,
12 right and duty to control and supervise the manner in which employees carried out the objectives
13 of their employment, and to see that all orders, rules, instructions and regulations promulgated by
14 the Children's Services Division, and the actions of its employees, are consistent with the 15 Federal Constitution and Federal law and the laws of the State of Oregon. The Oregon
16 Department of Human Services failure to investigate whether the removal of Plaintiff's children 17 was consistent with federal laws and the federal constitution is an arbitrary deprivation of 18 Plaintiff's fundamental liberties and substantive due process rights under the Fourteenth 19 Amendment.
20

21 49.

22 Defendants' failure to investigate or undertake a reasonably adequate investigation of the 23 circumstances by which Defendants unlawfully asserted authority while acting under color of 24 state law to remove Plaintiff's children is an arbitrary deprivation of Plaintiff's fundamental 25

1 liberties and substantive due process rights under the Fourteenth Amendment and the laws of the
2 state of Oregon.

3 50.

4 At all relevant times herein, the Oregon Department of Human Services had a continuous
5 duty to investigate the facts and circumstances of the removals and failed to do so. The failure to 6 investigate the facts was so reckless or grossly negligent that misconduct was inevitable.

7 51.

8 Defendants owed a duty of care to Plaintiff to undertake a reasonable and comprehensive 9 investigation which met the standard of care for determining whether indications of abuse and 10 concerns raised by the Plaintiff were rational under the circumstances, had taken place or were 11 occurring, and whether if the facts alleged by Defendants constitute adequate grounds for 12 dependency jurisdiction.

13 52.

14 As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' wrongful actions, Plaintiff and Plaintiff's
15 children suffered emotional and mental injury including but not limited to post traumatic stress,
16 anxiety, fear for the safety of her children, and depression. Plaintiff has been damaged due to the
17 interruption of an interference with the relationship with her daughters caused by Defendants and
18 that damage is valued at three hundred thousand ($300,000.00) dollars. Plaintiff has suffered
19 emotional distress in the amount of three million ($3,000,000.00) dollars.

20
21 FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

22 (Negligent Failure to Train and Supervise, Supplemental Jurisdiction, 28 U.S.C. § 1367)

23 53.

24 Plaintiff re-alleges and reincorporates paragraphs 1 through 26 above.
25

2 At all relevant times herein, the Oregon Department of Human Services had the power,
3 right and duty to control and supervise the manner in which employees carried out the objectives
4 of their employment, and to see that all orders, rules, instructions and regulations promulgated by
5 the Children's Services Division, and the actions of its employees, are consistent with the
6 Federal Constitution and Federal laws. The Oregon Department of Human Services failure to 7 adequately train or supervise its employees to carry out the duties of the agency in a manner
8 consistent with federal laws and the federal constitution is an arbitrary deprivation of Plaintiff's
9 fundamental liberties and substantive due process rights under the Fourteenth Amendment.
10

11 55.

12 At all relevant times herein, the State of Oregon had the power, right and duty to train the 13 manner in which employees carried out the objectives of their employment in a manner
14 consistent with State and Federal Constitutions and Federal and State Statutes and laws.
15 Defendant Oregon Department of Human Services' failure to supervise or train its employees in 16 this manner was so reckless or grossly negligent that future misconduct is almost inevitable.
17

18 56.

19 Plaintiff is entitled to all remedies provided by 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

20 57.

21 As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' wrongful actions, Plaintiff and Plaintiff's
22 children suffered emotional and mental injury including but not limited to post traumatic stress,
23 anxiety, fear for the safety of her children, and depression. Plaintiff has been damaged due to the
24 interruption of an interference with the relationship with her daughters caused by Defendants and 25 that damage is valued at three hundred thousand ($300,000.00) dollars. Plaintiff has suffered emotional distress in the amount of one million ($1,000,000.00) dollars.

1 58.

2 As a further result of Defendants' wrongful actions, Plaintiff is entitled to recover
3 reasonable costs and attorney fees incurred herein.

4 59.

5 Plaintiff is entitled to an award of punitive damages in an amount to be subsequently 6 amended or determined at trial.

7 FIFTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

8 (42 U.S.C. § 1983; Violation of the 4th and 14th Amendments: Unreasonable Seizure;
9 Unreasonable interference with Familial Association)
10

11 60.

12 Plaintiff re-alleges and reincorporates paragraphs 1 through 26 above.

13 61.

14 The Lane County Child Protective Services Division of the Oregon Department of 15 Human Services has a custom and policy of seizing children from classrooms and subjecting
16 them to custodial interrogations without a warrant, parental consent, or exigent circumstances,
17 and a custom and practice of not informing the parents either during or after the interview. The 18 Lane County Child Protective Services Division of the Oregon Department of Human Services
19 has adopted this policy with callous disregard of Plaintiff's 14th Amendment substantive due
20 process right to the direct care and protection of Plaintiff's children, and A.M.K.'s right to be 21 free from unreasonable seizures pursuant to the 4th Amendment.
22

23 62.

24 The unlawful seizure of A.M.K. is a direct and proximate cause of the damages suffered
25 by Plaintiff and A.M.K. as alleged in this Complaint.

63.

The action of Defendants showed a callous or reckless disregard for the rights of the Plaintiffs.

64.

SIXTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

(42 U.S.C. § 1983; 14th Amendments: Unreasonable interference with Familial Association against Rachel Cudmore, a Private Actor acting in collusion with the State)

65.

Plaintiff re-alleges and reincorporates paragraphs 1 through 26 above.

66.

At all material times herein, Rachel Cudmore was a private actor who colluded with Defendants and was a joint participant in the enterprise to interfere with the constitutional rights of Plaintiff. As a private counselor, Defendant Cudmore assisted DHS as a counselor and advocate for the agency in a function that is traditionally the exclusive prerogative of the state by actions that included but are not limited to; (a) Providing personally protected private health information of counseling sessions to the Oregon Department of Human Services and under the direction and supervision of Defendant Chandra Chapman and/or other state actors, without a release of information and without the permission or knowledge of Plaintiff Gillis; (b) documenting or attempting to document evidence of Plaintiff's alleged "mental injury" under the direction of Chandra Chapman and other DHS caseworkers; (c) alienating the children from Plaintiff under the direction and instruction of Defendant's Chapman and Beechinor by purposefully fabricating false statements and not disclosing statements of the minor children that

1 would contradict or place the agency's position in a negative light, and: (d) by refusing to release
2 information to Plaintiff as requested by Plaintiff but releasing said information to all other parties
3 in the underlying dependency case.

4 67.

5 The action of Defendants showed a callous or reckless disregard for the rights of the 6 Plaintiffs.

7 68.

8 Plaintiffs are entitled to all remedies provided by 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

10 SEVENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

11 (Declaratory Judgment, Proscriptive Equitable Relief)

12 69.

13 Plaintiff re-alleges and reincorporates paragraphs 1 through 26 above.
14

15 70.

16 Plaintiff asks this Court to find that pursuant to the rights and privileges of due process
17 afforded persons under Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution, the State of 18 Oregon may not take a child into protective custody without a warrant or in the absence of 19 imminent danger of serious bodily injury and further, that in order to take a child into protective
20 custody the State must file a petition with a court of competent jurisdiction alleging imminent
21 danger of serious bodily injury and the parent must be afforded adequate notice of the specific 22 factual allegations upon which the State is basing its removal, and further that the parent must be 23 afforded a post-deprivation evidentiary hearing within a reasonable time as proscribed by law in 24 which the burden to establish grounds for removal rests with the State.

25 ///

2 The regular custom and practice of the juvenile court of Lane County, Oregon of 3 divesting parents of the right to an immediate, post-deprivation or probable cause hearing upon 4 removal and placement of children in shelter care, protective custody or otherwise limiting 5 contact to supervised visitation, in the absence of a contested hearing and by postponing the 6 determination of whether children should be removed from the home until a jurisdictional
7 hearing sixty or more days after first appearance, is an unconstitutional deprivation of procedural
8 and substantive due process under the Fourteenth Amendment.

10 72.

11 Plaintiff hereby gives notice of a constitutional challenge to ORS 419B.185 as 12 procedurally defective in affording a post-deprivation hearing, to the extent that ORS 419B.185
13 requires that the burden of proof is upon the parent to establish the absence of probable cause
14 rather than on the State to prove the existence of probable cause that a child cannot return or 15 remain in the home without danger of suffering physical injury, severe emotional harm, or harm
16 to oneself or others.
17

18 73.

19 Plaintiff asks this Court to find that the continuation of indefinite temporary jurisdiction
20 by the State Circuit Court, during which time Plaintiff's children were removed from Plaintiff's
21 care for a period of time that is exceeding ten months, by disallowing a jurisdictional hearing
22 until a modification of custody and parenting time petition can be adjudicated by the family
23 court, does not constitute good cause and is an unconstitutional deprivation of Plaintiff's
24 procedural and substantive due process rights afforded persons by the Fourth and Fourteenth
25 Amendment of the United States Constitution.

2 Plaintiff asks the Court to find as a matter of law, the Defendants did not have consent or
3 lawful authority to enter or consent to remove Plaintiff's children without a warrant, exigent
4 circumstances or court order based on an affidavit of probable cause, and without evidence that
5 the children were in imminent danger of suffering serious bodily injury, severe emotional harm,
6 or harm to oneself or others.

7 75.

8 As stated herein, Defendants have wrongfully, unlawfully, and with deliberate
9 indifference to the rights of Plaintiff, and with utter disregard to Defendants' duties and 10 obligations to Plaintiff, acted, practiced and/or adopted policies, practices, procedures and/or 11 customs which are in violation of the rights of Plaintiff, including those to be free from 12 governmental interference as to Plaintiff's right of privacy and familial associations, and from 13 unreasonable searches and seizures and related actions and proceedings to Plaintiff's right of 14 familial association.

15 76.

16 DEFENDANTS' have failed to acknowledge their improper, unlawful and 17 unconstitutional actions, conduct and policies at the time of the incidents at issue in the present
18 action, and Plaintiff is informed and believes that Defendants have not changed or modified such 19 actions, conduct and/or policies to conform to law.

20 77.

21 DEFENDANTS' wrongful and unlawful conduct, actions and/or policies, unless and until 22 enjoined and restrained by order of this court, have caused, and continue to cause, great and 23 irreparable injury to Plaintiff, and other individuals and citizens, in that Defendants will continue
24 to act in accordance with said unlawful policies, and with deliberate indifference to their duties
25

1 and obligations under federal law, including those under the Fourth and Fourteenth Amendments
2 as alleged herein above.

3 78.

4 Plaintiff has not an adequate remedy at law to prevent or prohibit Defendants from 5 continuing, and/or repeating, their unlawful and unconstitutional conduct and policies other than 6 through injunctive relief, and therefore seeks an order enjoining and prohibiting the Director of 7 the Oregon Department of Human Services from continuing to allow the following practices that 8 have occurred in this case, upon which Plaintiff has based some or all of her claims and which is 9 capable of repetition yet would otherwise evade review:
10

- 11 a. The policy and/or practice of detaining and/or removing children from their 12 family and homes without exigent circumstances imminent danger of serious 13 injury, court order and/or consent;
- 14 b. The policy and practice of removing children from the care of their family and 15 from their homes without first obtaining a warrant or court order supported by 16 affidavit of probable cause that imminent danger will occur if removal is not 17 timely undertaken when no exigency exists;
- 18 c. The practice of requiring parties to appear at the original hearing without serving 19 a summons and petition and then serving the parties for the first time at the 20 courthouse immediately prior to the original hearing, thereby preventing the 21 parties from being adequately apprised of the factual allegations against them or 22 informing counsel of the allegations and jurisdictional grounds for removal prior 23 to the original hearing;
24

- 1 d. The policy and practice of examining children without parental consent in the 2 absence of exigency, need, or proper court order, and without the presence of their 3 proper custodian and/or guardian;
- 4 e. The policy and practice of removing and detaining children, and not returning 5 them, beyond a reasonable period after the basis for detention is negated;
- 6 f. The policy and practice of not working to reunite the child, and maintaining that 7 there is no duty to reunify when the child has been removed and placed with the 8 non-custodial parent as an “in-home” placement;
- 9 g. The policy and practice of state interference into private custody and parenting
10 time orders by withholding children and or continuing dependency jurisdiction
11 until such time as the parent with whom the children are placed by the agency
12 files for a modification of custody and petitions for such terms as the agency
13 deems appropriate.
- 14 h. The policy and/or practice of using trickery, duress, fabrication or misleading 15 representations, and in failing to disclose exculpatory evidence, in preparing and 16 presenting reports and court documents to the Court, causing an interference with 17 the Plaintiff’s rights, including, but not limited to intentionally withholding 18 evidence for a lengthy period, usually 60 days from the date of removal of the 19 children, before a “fact-finding” hearing is scheduled with the court for the 20 purpose of pressuring parents to “admit” to allegations set forth in the petition.
21 During this period from the removal of the child to the fact-finding hearing, when 22 parents are without their children and denied a post-deprivation evidentiary
23 hearing establishing grounds for removal by the State, it is a routine practice for 24 employees of the Oregon Department of Human Services in Lane County to 25

1 pressure parents to admit to allegations set forth in the petition for jurisdiction, in
 2 part by informing parents that if they admit to the allegations and forego a 3 constitutionally protected jurisdictional hearing, the children removed from the 4 home will be returned more quickly. This practice is undertaken with the full
 5 knowledge that parents are more likely to waive their constitutional right to a 6 probable cause or jurisdictional hearing the longer the children have been 7 removed from the home;

- 8 i. By acting with deliberate indifference in implementing a policy of inadequate 9 training, and/or by failing to train officers, agents, employees and state actors, in 10 providing the Constitutional protections guaranteed to individuals, including those 11 under the Fourth and Fourteenth Amendments, when performing actions related 12 to dependency proceedings and removal of children from their families;
- 13 j. Aiding and abetting in the violation of civil rights guaranteed to individuals, 14 including those under the Fourth and Fourteenth Amendments, by engaging in the 15 aforementioned conduct;
- 16 k. Conspiring to violate civil rights guaranteed to individuals, including those under 17 the Fourth and Fourteenth Amendments, by engaging in the aforementioned 18 conduct.
 19

20 WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays for judgment against Defendants, as to all causes of 21 action, as follows:
 22

- 23 1. Plaintiff demands a jury trial as to the issues so triable;
- 24 2. As against all Defendants, general damages of $3,300,000.00, or in an amount to 25 be subsequently amended or determined at trial;
- 3. Special damages according to proof but not to exceed $80,000.00;

- 1 4. As only against the individual Defendants, and not any public entity, Punitive
- 2 Damages in the sum of not less than $500,000.00 or in an amount to be
- 3 subsequently amended or determined at trial and otherwise allowed by law;
- 4
- 5 5. Declaratory and equitable relief as allowed by law.
- 6
- 7 6. For temporary, preliminary and permanent injunctive relief enjoining Defendant
- 8 State of Oregon from engaging in practices set forth in paragraph 54, sections (a)
- 9 through (k);
- 10
- 11 7. Reasonable costs and attorney fees incurred herein;
- 12
- 13 8. All legal and equitable remedies provided by 42 U.S.C. § 1983; and
- 14
- 15 9. For costs of suit and such other and further relief as the Court deems just
